

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

FRIDAY EVE., MARCH 30, 1883.

ROSSER & McCARTHY,
PUBLISHERS AND PROPRIETORS.

We hope the girls will pardon us
If just right here we are
If female jaws were fashioned for
The grinding up of wax.
And, pray, was it intended that
Their jaws should stop it never,
But like the brook we read about
Go right along forever.

Notice.

The bulk of the telegraphic matter for the BULLETIN to-day failed to arrive, probably on account of the storm last night. It will be printed as usual to-morrow.

Coal this week commands ten cents a bushel.

Mrs. JOHN WHITAKER, her friends will be pleased to learn, is much better.

A PASSENGER engine on the Kentucky Central during the month of February, run 4,000 miles.

The band room has been removed to the building at the south-west corner of Front and Market streets.

We learn that the late protracted meeting at the M. E. Church, Germantown, resulted in sixteen accessions.

MAYSVILLE Council No. 36 will meet on the 5th Monday in April. The meetings are held every three months.

The work of filling Court street up again with ashes began yesterday. Some very industrious mound builders are living on that thoroughfare.

The express facilities of Maysville are better now than they have ever been. It is received by the morning and evening trains and twice a day by boat.

Messrs. CHURN & MILLS carpenters, are about to put in operation in their shop on third street a lot of wood-working machinery to be run by water-power.

As the Rev. M. D. Reynolds will be absent from the city next Sunday, the pulpit of the M. E. Church, South, will that day be filled by Dr. G. T. Gould, of Millersburg. There will be service both morning and evening.

Mr. Wm. HUNT, originator and proprietor of the Dark Horse, Silver Dollar and other well known cigars, likes the enlarged BULLETIN and has given it an advertisement. His cigars are too well known to need a favorable notice from us.

The Old Folks Concert and the Concert by the Smith Family at the Opera House this evening is anticipated with much interest. The whole will be presented in a style that will be a pleasant surprise to all. There ought to be a large audience present.

Messrs. WHITE & ORT are opening the spring campaign with a motto that means business of a pure and simple kind. If you have curiosity enough to know just what they mean to do, you will hunt up the advertisement we print in another column, and as Capt. Cuttle would say, "When found make a note of it."

UNDER the head of "Honor to whom honor is due," in another column, will be found some interesting matter concerning Mr. James Coburn, formerly of Germantown and at one time a resident of this city. He was for about two years a deputy in the Circuit Clerk's office, under the late John M. Duke, Jr. His friends will read with pleasure the good words spoken of him.

THE show window at T. J. Curley's plumbing establishment, is one of the most inviting in the city. It is a mass of green moss with a water basin in the center, from which a miniature fountain plays. The basin is to be supplied with gold-fish and a variety of water plants. It has attracted a great deal of attention and "Fountain Square" is the name already given to that part of Second street.

PERRY RUDY can tell you how to clean out a stove-pipe—that is if you can find enough of him in one place to talk to. He does it, we are informed, with gunpowder, generally about five cents worth, and when the pipe goes through the ceiling, the stove out the window and yourself through the door you may know the Rudy plan is successful. There are other and perhaps easier ways, but this one, to say the least, possesses the charm of excitement and novelty.

PERSONALS.

Points About People Here and Elsewhere.

Mrs. Bettie Varian, at last accounts, was improving.

Mr. Thos. Y. Nesbitt and Master Roe Nesbitt have gone to Owingsville to be absent about a week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Sphar left yesterday afternoon to attend the funeral of a relative, near Newport, Ky.

Mr. Charles Osborne, of this county, is still very low, and we regret to say, there is no hope of his recovery.

Rev. B. F. Bristow, at the urgent solicitation of his friends, has consented to become a candidate for the Legislature in the First district.

Dr. R. Hiner, of Shelbyville, passed through the city yesterday, to assist Rev. W. D. Power in a protracted meeting at Germantown.

Dr. S. M. Cartmell, who has been laid up for a week past with a severe cold is much better, and expects to be out again in a day or two.

Mrs. A. J. Bayless and Miss Lida Secrests, of Concord, are visiting Mrs. J. G. Payne, of East Maysville. Mrs. Payne will return with them to Concord next Saturday.

He is not a Colonel.

Colonel J. B. Noyes, the pleasant and popular assistant at the County Clerk's office, is not a Colonel after all. We are very sure of that because a BULLETIN reporter had it from his own lips yesterday afternoon.

"I am not now, never have been and never will be a Colonel," he said, "and I would be obliged if the BULLETIN would remember it."

"Colonel!" called Clerk Ball, who was in the adjoining parlor getting ready for another wedding.

"Coming" was the prompt reply and the conversation ended.

This is how we happen to know that Colonel Noyes is not a Colonel after all.

Death of Mrs. Wheeler.

Mrs. Elizabeth Wheeler, wife of Mr. John Wheeler, died yesterday afternoon about two o'clock after a painful illness of several weeks. She was the daughter of the late Robert White, of this city, and was in her thirty-sixth year. She was a kind-hearted, good woman, noted for her unobtrusive deeds of kindness to the indigent and distressed. She leaves one child, a little girl. Mr. Wheeler and his motherless little one have the deepest sympathy of the community. The funeral will take place from the residence to-morrow afternoon at two o'clock, after services by Rev. S. B. Alderson, of the Presbyterian Church.

Future Punishment.

Rev. A. N. Gilbert will preach at the Christian church on Sunday morning on the question - "Is there Punishment after Death?" At night the second of the series of lectures to young people will be given, the subject being: "What can a Young Lady do?" All seats free. Everybody cordially welcomed.

K. of P. Attention.

A full attendance is requested to-night, at Castle Hall, at 7:30 o'clock. Work in new Ritual—Lecture by a distinguished K. of P. and Lunch.

SIMON DAVIS, C. C.

JAMES K. LLOYD, K. of R. & S.

Dr. T. H. N. SMITH advertises elsewhere some new business arrangements. Hereafter he will devote his time exclusively to the preservation of the natural teeth, and Dr. C. W. Wardle, will take charge of the mechanical work in all its branches. See the advertisement.

WHEN a cold or other cause checks the operation of the secretive organs, their natural healthy action should be restored by the use of Ayer's Pills, and inflammatory material thereby removed from the system. Much serious sickness and suffering might be prevented by thus promptly correcting those slight derangements that, otherwise, often develop into settled disease.

THE case of Thomas Cumming has not yet been brought before the Court of Appeals and he has not therefore been granted a new trial. He was taken out of the custody of the keeper of the Penitentiary by virtue of a writ of habeas corpus and is now in jail here awaiting the next step in his case. What that step will be no one the BULLETIN has interviewed has been able to say. His attorneys decline to give any information as to their intentions in the matter.

ABERDEEN ITEMS.

We are delighted to hear that the captivating widower has changed his mind. Aberdeen was too powerful a magnet to resist.

The singing at the Methodist Church, March 26, was the bright and particular attraction of the evening. They all did well, but as we have an especial admiration for a good masculine voice, we had a treat in listening to Mr. Mofford's rich melodious voice. He sings a certain style, which is effective.

Mr. A. J. Crone, of Sonora, New Mexico, is visiting his relatives at Aberdeen.

Mr. H. M. Palmer has bought out Mr. T. F. Hill. Mr. Palmer will continue the grocery business. He intends to keep a first-class grocery.

We are much obliged to Mr. G. W. O. for his kind advice in recommending Simmons' medicated well-water. No doubt it could cure heart disease. But we are free from that troublesome malady.

GERALDINE.

Mrs. Catharine F. Rand.

Mrs. Catharine F. Rand, who died at Vanceburg on the 20th inst., was the widow of the late Jacob W. Rand, who for 26 years was principal of the female department of the Maysville Seminary and whose memory is still fondly cherished for his sterling worth and christian character. Though more than a score of years have passed since the deceased left her home in this city, yet many of her loving friends still live to lament her death and to sympathize with her bereaved family. Mrs. Rand was born at Marietta in 1806, and was the eldest daughter of Stephen and Catharine Shepard. Mrs. Shepard being the sister of Dr. Wm. S. Plummer, one of the brightest constellations in the galaxy of Presbyterian Divines.

In 1818 she removed with her parents to Charleston, West Virginia, and in 1825 married J. W. Rand, Esq., with whom she removed to Maysville in 1834, at which time Mr. Rand became principal of the female department of the Maysville Seminary, in which position he continued for twenty-six years; and many who were tutored by him during that period are still living and will with one accord bear testimony to his usefulness, fidelity and lovely christian character. Mrs. Rand during that time was matron of the institution and admirably discharged the duties of that office. In 1860 she removed with her husband to Lewis county, and settled on the pure waters of Kinney, surrounded by its lofty hills and impenetrable forests, and here her home soon became a sanctuary in the wilderness, where the children of the woods frequented on Sabbath days for Sunday school instructions, and the young and old were taught the important lesson of "seeking first the kingdom of God and his righteousness." On Tuesday, the 20th, she gently fell asleep, and was buried at Charleston, in Spring Hill Cemetery, where her loved ones were entombed. Mrs. Rand's funeral services were performed in the same church at Charleston where, early in life she had united with God's people, the same in which she was married and her children baptized, and where, nine years ago this same month, she had heard her husband's funeral preached.

Now she has sunk to rest. The weary pilgrim of 77 years has left her earthly scenes for a higher sphere in the Holy City of our God. She too has passed the veil within the gates.

"Where golden glories stream afar,
And heavenly harps the soul await,
To glowing notes of joy attuned,
There bursts of praise and wondering love
In lofty strains shall onward flow,
Shall onward and forever flow
The music of Eternity." W. W. R.

A Drunken Jackass' Round With the Boys.

Bodie (Cal.) Free Press.
Aurora has a little jackass that enjoys a drunken spree, and will drink liquor until his ears can no longer wag. While under the influence of wine or whiskey he will perform many amusing tricks. Several weeks ago a number of Bodieites visited Aurora. After drinking all they could conveniently carry, the Bodieites turned their attention to the jack. He was escorted into a saloon and the champagne ordered. The jack took his "medicine" like an old-timer. After the second quart had disappeared the animal became frisky and wanted more. He tried to climb up on the bar, and when intimidated he displayed a bad temper by kicking a county official in the abdomen and biting a lawyer's leg. Not until he had drank a pint of whisky did the intemperate jack quiet down. In the morning he was found stretched out near a deserted building. A cocktail revived him, and he was ready for another "run with the boys."
